

6516206564.txt

A free market society thrives on the fact that consumers voice their wants and needs by use of the almighty Dollar. Society has spoken--and we want the services which XM provides. It is not the government's job to silent our voices, but rather its job to heed them. It's the whole "governing best by governing least" scenario all over again; so let the consumer speak, and stay out of it!